THE PRESS MEETING.

The mid-winter meeting of the Kentucky Press Association at Hopkinsville the first of the week was gathering of unusual interest and importance. The attendance was almost as large as at the summer sessions and the program included a variety of interesting topics, not least of them "shop talk." The new Patterson Hotel, on Walnut street, proved to be an ideal meeting place, the big hall on the tenth floor was well lighted on two sides, and a photographer was able to take a snap picture by daylight on a balcony inside the room. The members of the hotel, Mr. Robt. B. Jones and Mr. J. M. McCracken, were particularly helpful in their arrangements.

The year 1914 went out with a bright and glorious winter day followed by a gorgeous moonlight night. As the hour of midnight arrived, every whistle in town where there was a night watchman on duty was turned on and the whole town was aroused by a chorus of steam whistles, cannon crackers and other noises that gave 1915 a noisy welcome. At the Methodist church a watch party was held with religious services and there was a general forming of new resolutions and turning over of new leaves.

Yesterday morning the new year started with a beautiful day, a replica of the day before. The Kentuckian with this issue enters upon its 37th volume, closing one of its best and most successful years.

BELLIGERENT EUROPE IS IN STATUO QUO

Allies More Confident But Little Real Progress Has Been Made Along The Battle Front In France.

RUSSIA HAS DEFEATED AUSTRIANS AND CHECKED GERMANS.

American Protest on Abuse of Shipping Is Considered by England as Diplomatic Document of More Importance Than Any of Great War.

London, Jan. 1.—The new year finds belligerent Europe after five months of war fighting as sternly as at the beginning, but seemingly without prospects of immediate big victories.

The Austrians again have been driven out of the greater part of Galicia and, according to a Vienna statement, the Russians have crossed the Carpathians for the third time, but in Poland, where a more important battle is in progress, the armies of the Russian and German emperors are still fighting for the banks of the rivers which intersect the country between upper Vistula and Pilica rivers.

In Flanders and France there has been a lull in the fighting on most of the front, disturbed occasionally, however, by artillery fire, infantry attacks and counter-attacks. The French announce that they have carried half of the village of Steinbach, in upper Alsace which, while of little or no importance itself, stands at the foot of a hill which commands a large part of the surrounding country. It is in this region, as in the vicinity of Noyon and between the Argonne ridge and the Meuse, that the French have been pushing their offensive with the greatest force and where they claim to have made the most progress.

Along the Belgian coast fighting is confined to artillery bombardments. Westende and many other little towns which long ago were deserted by the civilian populations have been made the target for shells of the allies.

Walfish Bay, a British possession on the coast of German Southwest Africa, which the Germans took at the commencement of the war, has been retaken by Union of South Africa forces, while the Australians have annexed Bougainville Island, another of the Solomon Islands, over which flew the German flag and about the last of the German Islands in the Pacific.

SECOND BAPTIST CHURCH

Rapid Growth of New Church on West Side Under The Care of Rev. W. F. Goodman.

REV. W. F. GOODMAN.

The Second Baptist Church of Hopkinsville was organized in the United Tabernacle April 3, 1910, and will soon be five years old. It started with 33 members. Rev. E. J. Weller was pastor of the church from April 1910 to Jan. 1, 1914, and was succeeded by Rev. W. F. Goodman two years ago. Under Mr. Weller's pastorate there were 115 additions to the church and under Mr. Goodman's there has been but one total of 170 in less than five years.

SECOND BAPTIST CHURCH.

The church has built a handsome house of worship on the corner of Seventh street and Kentucky avenue and under the leadership of its able and enthusiastic young pastor is doing a great work.

The Sunday school is a prosperous and rapidly growing one under the superintendency of Frank Boyd and a corps of competent and faithful teachers.

After January 1 the German administration in Belgium intends to close the Belgian borders against al-comers. No more passports will be issued or recognized except the special military passes. It is believed here this unusual precaution is taken to prevent espionage.

Since Russian defeat of the Austrians in Galicia, which, while not irreparable, is likely to affect the whole Austro-German campaign in the east, there has been no important development on either front.
The allies, although making no
dramatic attacks on the German lines, are steadily hammering away
with their artillery and when opportunity offers, push their lines a few yards forward.

Jane Peyton, a Chicago actress has applied in the superior court for annulment of her marriage to Guy Bates Post, actor. She asserts that the marriage was innocently bigamous, as she supposed she had been divorced from the late Arthur Cecil Gordon Weld, a musician and playwright. The plaintiff was at one time well known in Chicago society
as Miss Jennie Van Norman, daughter of a wealthy stock broker. She and Post were married in 1907.

TOO BUSY TO LEGISLATE.

That more than sixty per cent of the representatives in congress are lawyers and only 15 per cent are business men is bewailed by our sprightly contemporary, the Wall Street Journal, which would like to see this state of affairs reversed. If the recent depression in trade were to be long protracted, this might be accomplished; but not otherwise. The reason business men are not in congress is that they don't want to be there; they are too busy.—New York

Old Lady's Sage Advice.

Knoxville, Tenn.—Mrs. Mamie Towe, of 102 W. Main Street, this would not think I was the same person. Six doctors failed to do me good,

and my friends thought I would die.
I could hardly get out of bed or walk
a step. At last an old lady advised me to take Cardui, and now I can go most anywhere." All ailing women

MAHOGANY FOR THE MARKET

May Be a Possibility That a Supply of Beautiful Wood Can Be Assured.

After the rubber industry is well established the next venture in tropical plantations may well be the growing of mahogany. The market for such a crop is assured. No other wood has the perennial popularity of mahogany, no other is such a delight to the artistic cabinetmaker. The natural supply is decreasing while the demand is growing greater each day, but a cultivated supply is not beyond the world's reach.

A story from the British possessions in West Africa is of interest in this connection. It seems that a good-sized town in southern Nigeria was destroyed about sixty years ago.
Recent visitors to the site of this old-time city claimed to find mahogany trees ten feet in diameter growing in the ruins. Sixty years is too long to wait for returns on capital, but cabi-netmakers do not need trees ten feet through. Travelers' tales are a poor basis for exact computations, but it seems reasonably certain that mahogany trees rightly handled will grow fast enough to make their cultivation a fair investment. If this be true, the world may escape the horror of steel sofas and paper Morris chairs, after all.

JACKSON KEPT HIS WORD.

One hundred years ago, after having successfully defended Fort Bow-yer against the British attack, Gen.
Andrew Jackson was preparing to leave Mobile to begin the invasion of Florida, at that time Spanish territory. A short time before he had written to the authorities at Washington: "If the government so orders, I will rejoice at the opportunity of placing the American eagle on the ramparts of Mobile, Pensacola and St. Augustine." Within another month he had fulfilled his promise and was back in Mobile. Almost immediately he departed with his staff for New Orleans to take charge of the preparations that were being made for the defense of that city against the threatened attack by the combined military and naval forces of the British.

NO CONTROL.

The auto speeder was arrested late one night and brought before the court next morning.
"You say the machine was beyond
your control?" asked his honor.
"It was."
"Why was it? And can you prove it?"
"Listen, your honor. If I could have controlled that machine, how could the cop have caught me?"— Boston American.

TRAPPED.

"Please, sir, can you spare a quarter for a poor man who had to run away from his home in Belgium?"
"So you've come all the way from Belgium to the United States, eh?"
"Yes, sir."
"Well, that's a long walk. Didn't you get footsore and weary?"
"Indeed I did sir. There wuz times when I thought I'd never be able to make it."

HIGH STEPPER.

"Who is that man just stepping
out of the limousine?"
"That's the janitor of one of our high schools."

PUBLIC HIGHWAYS

WORK ON ROADS IN SUMMER

Building and Maintaining Highways is More Kindly Thought of by Many of the Users.

Gradually the farmers in practically every community are beginning to take personal interest in the matter of making the roads they are forced to use better and more fit for general travel all the year round.

In those states where the road work is done by farmers and their teams it is hard to get the labor done when the weather conditions are best, says a writer in Farm Progress. They will not leave their fields to put in four or five days grading and leveling the public highways unless they are practically forced to do it.

But there are signs of better times in the matter of country road building. I drove 20 miles and back a few weeks ago over roads that used to be impassable at that time of year for anything except a good strong team and a good wagon. Soft clay, soft soil and mud holes of infinite variety were its old-time characteristics.

I made the trip in a very ordinary, four-year-used motor car and drove the round trip in about three hours. Under the old arrangement it would have taken all of one day and possibly part of the night.

The road drags, just the ordinary old road drags made from split logs, made the difference. Something, and I believe it was the necessity of making the road passable for the rural free delivery wagons, has made a big difference along the old road. We saw several road drags along the way, two or three of them in use, and the roads where they were passing were as smooth as a turnpike.

Summer is the time to do really constructive road work. The drag can be used summer or winter, but scraping, grading, culvert repairing and draining ought to be done in June, July, August and September. Earlier in the year the mud will prevent any real work being completed. Later in the fall the rains will turn the freshly graded roads into loblollies of clayey water.

From now on until the first snows and freezes the dirt road can be shaped and graded. I am of the opinion that the plan of appointing some one farmer as overseer or "road boss" and having the rest of the neighborhood work under this inexperienced man is a mistake. The time will come when all road work will be done under the supervision of a man who does nothing but plan and build and possibly maintain roads. He will know roads under all weather conditions and can look after their creation, drainage and repair intelligently. It is mostly a hit or miss proposition now.

WAYS OF A BAD ROAD THIEF

Forces Farmer to Haul Small Loads Drive Slowly and Occasions Many Expensive Delays.

The bad road thief forces you to haul small loads, drive slowly, wrench and twist the life out of your horse, harness and vehicle, often breaking and damaging the latter until great and expensive delays are occasioned. It also steals your opportunity to dispose of your farm when you wish to sell, for no man will pay as much for a farm bordered by a poor road system as he will for one with a well-kept highway, and some will not buy a farm at all when the road system is poor. The loss of time and money where the above named conditions exist makes it imperative that you open all the drain ditches along the road, and drag this silent, notorious thief to death with the King road drag.

Through Traffic Problem. There is a phase of the road question which is state-wide in its application. That relates to the through or trunk lines which accommodate through traffic. To leave the construction and care of these roads in the hands of local authorities must result in uneven and inharmonious gaps, and desultory care, involving practically a failure of such roads for a standard of their utility.

A also property built of Wm. Stone will be a success.

FOR QUIET IN CITY STREETS

Anti-Noise Ordinance Passed in New York Hailed as Step in the Right Direction.

The new anti-noise ordinance provides prompt punishment for any person plying a trade in the streets who shall make or permit to be made "any noise tending to disturb the peace and quiet of the neighborhood for the purpose of directing attention to his wares or trade or calling."

This is an improvement upon the old ordinance and will put a stop to one of the needless noises that have been an abomination to the community. There are, however, many other noises that are just as needless and just as annoying that do not come under the penalties of the law because they are not made by persons plying a trade and are not intended to attract attention to wares or to callings. They are many in number and various in nature, running all the way from the unnecessary noises of automobiles to the pounding of flat car wheels and the deafening rattle of elevated trains. The new ordinance, therefore, is but a step in the right direction, but even a step is to be welcomed.—New York World.

WHERE HE TOOK HIS DEGREE

Indianapolis Self-Made Man's Neat Counterstroke to Somewhat Snobbish Remark.

George Kreitlein, an Indianapolis business man, is self-made and successful. His gun club decided to hold an open trap shoot, and it was announced that all entries must be in before six o'clock Wednesday evening. About eight o'clock in the evening the club's telephone bell rang, and a voice on the other end of the phone said: "I desire to speak to the head of the shoot committee." Kreitlein happened to be near and he answered the phone. "The head of the shoot committee is speaking," said he. "What can I do for you?" "This is John Astorbilt Jones—Yale '98," said the voice. "Yes," "I'd like to enter your tournament," said the voice. "Sorry," said Kreitlein, "entry list closed at six o'clock." "But," said the voice, "I'm sure you'll make an exception in my case." "Can't be done," "Can't be done?" repeated the voice. "I don't think you quite understand who I am. I'm John Astorbilt Jones—Yale '98." "And this," was the reply, "is George Kreitlein—night school, '67—and I say it can't be done."

EVER HEAR THESE?

"To whom are you writing?"
"The ill-fated steamer."
"The explosion came very suddenly."
"The house was packed from pit to dome."
"A level-headed business man."
"Battle-scarred veteran."
"The police are at work on the case."
"The injured man was rushed to the hospital."
"Our well-known tonsorial artist."
"Our chauffeur claims he was driving very slowly."

THE AEROPLANE.

The first successful aeroplane was made by the Wright brothers of Dayton, O., who made their ever-memorable flight at Kitty Hawk, N. C., in December, 1903. For three years after that there were but two men who could fly—Wilbur and Orville Wright. Since 1906 the advance has been phenomenal, as the present European war clearly proves. The future of the aeroplane no man can tell.

GETTING READY.

Willis—What are you polishing up your gun for?
Gillis—On account of this European war.
Willis—Surely, you don't think we will be drawn into it?
Gillis—No, but think of the horde of book agents who will be out selling "The History of the Great Conflict."—Puck.

DON'T YOURS?

"He complains that he never can meet his bills."
"Lucky dog! Mine always show up on the first of the month."—Judge.

Home-Made Ointment.
The following is a recipe for a simple home-made ointment, which is excellent for applying to cuts and bruises. One teaspoonful each of olive oil, turpentine, spirits of camphor and castor oil. Of course, any amount desired may be made, but the proportion must be as given here.

When Actor Made an Enemy.
Willie Edouin once told of an actor in a certain company who one day incautiously disclosed the secret that he was actually saving $2 a week. The rest of the company were dumfounded at it. Then they enjoyed "the joke" immensely. He was chaffed unmercifully. There was only one person present who did not join in the fun against him. He remained silent and when the money saver left he took an opportunity of slipping out after him and congratulated him on his common sense in providing for a rainy day. Then he informed him that he himself had often thought of doing the same thing, but circumstances had always been against him, and just then he was at his wit's ends. Would the saver mind lending him, say, a ten-spot till Sunday? He did not get it and became from that time one of the most bitter ridiculers of saving as tending to make a man think of no one but himself. It really requires courage in many circles to own to one's qualities.

Every tragedy in the home circle, every hour of agony through which you pass, every wrong that you must endure in silence—for there is no redress upon this side of the grave—is not purposeless or accidental. It is a great privilege to which you are called—the high prerogative of suffering. Some day we shall see the meaning of it all, and never regret a moment of it.—R. J. Campbell.

The slab-sided, flat-bottomed fluke is not a game fish, but he is muscular, and when he decides to bore down to the bottom his flat shape aids him in giving a good account of himself. He is the hog of the sea, although he prefers that which is alive. After being hooked the fish will lie still and not move until the angler notifies him by hauling upward. Then the fluke gets busy.

STONE MOUNTAIN INTO MONUMENT.

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 30.—The bald granite face of the great Stone Mountain, near Atlanta, will in a few years be carved into the likeness of a Confederate soldier of heroic size, perhaps a hundred feet tall or more, if plans of the United Daughters of the Confederacy are carried out.

Samuel H. Venable, who owns the mountain, has given formal permission to the Daughters of the Confederacy to go ahead with the plan, which was suggested some time ago by H. Terrell, an Atlanta attorney.

A committee will take up the preliminary work of raising a fund and choosing a sculptor. The committee will be headed, probably, by Mrs. Helen Plare, who was first to take up the movement and who is honorary president of the Atlanta chapter.

The fire department quickly put out the flames and the loss amounts to only a small sum. County Assessor W. J. McGee was just moving into the house when the flames were discovered.

SOW ALFALFA IN EARLY FALL
All Danger of Interference From Weeds is Avoided—Plant is Not Very Vigorous at Start.

A great many people who sow alfalfa in the spring complain that the "weeds take it." They do in a great many instances. Weeds and alfalfa will not be able to occupy the same ground. One or the other must gain the upper hand in short order, and the weeds are the more enduring and the harder to conquer. As a consequence the alfalfa is smothered out by them, and along in the middle of the summer you hear another man proclaiming that alfalfa is no good.

Weeds have caused more alfalfa failures than sour lands, wet soils or poor seedbed preparation. The danger is particularly great where the seedling is done in the spring. Every weed seed in the soil is fighting for air enough and warmth enough to sprout, and after it sprouts it will fight for room enough to make its growth. Alfalfa is not a particularly vigorous plant in its first few days of life, and it is the first few days that count in the growth of alfalfa versus weeds.

On account of the danger from interference by the weed crop, it is usually better to sow alfalfa in the fall, or in late summer. It will be time and money saved to put in the seed in the summer fallowing of the land, stirring the soil enough to keep down each successive weed crop. The soil stirring will not only get rid of the weeds that have come up, but it will stimulate the remaining seeds that are lying in the soil to germination and growth. In this way several successive seedings of weeds can be disposed of and the ground left fairly clear for the summer or fall seeding of alfalfa.

Winter or early spring plowing will go a long way toward preparing a good seedbed for the fall sowing of alfalfa. If the ground needs it, turn under considerable quantities of manure when it is broken. If lime is needed, this should be spread before the plowing and turned under so it will have a chance to thoroughly mix with and sweeten the earth.

GIVE POULTRY CLEAN WATER
Especially Needed by Laying Hens
for Production of Eggs—Good Plan Shown in Illustration.

Let the poultry, and especially the laying hens, have all the water they will drink during the winter and have the water warm and have it clean. The demand for water during the winter on the part of animals and birds is great, but they drink less than they should because it is usually cold when given them. Don't be satisfied with giving water to the fowls once a day, but see that they have it three times daily at least, and in a clean vessel into which they can not get their feet.

APPLY LIME TO ACID SOILS
Only Economic Neutralizer or Corrective Within Reach of Farmer is Lime—Meaning of Word.

The only economic neutralizer, or corrective, for soil acidity which is within the reach of the farmer is lime. Ordinarily one thinks of lime as that material used in the making of plaster and mortar. Throughout the agricultural world today, however, the word "lime" has taken on a very general meaning. It not only includes burnt lime, or quicklime, but also air and water-slacked lime, ground lime-stone, marl, pulverized shells, and marble dust. These different materials, with the exception of burnt lime and water-slacked lime, are commonly spoken of as "carbonate of lime," or "lime carbonate," because they consist of ordinary quicklime combined with carbon dioxide gas of the air.

Build a Strong Fence.
It takes time and some money to build a good fence, but it costs quite as much of both to rebuild a rundown one. One of the most important parts of a fence, above all others, is the quality and setting of corner and gate posts. On the corner posts depends the stability of the fence, and time and expense should not be spared in setting them firmly.

Cardui is successful in benefiting sick women, because it is composed of ingredients that act specifically on the woman's constitution, relieving headache, bearing irregularity, misery and distress. Only a good medicine could show such continual increase in popularity. Cardui has for the past 50 years been the woman's tonic—Advertisement.

"That's nothing," ejaculated Marion, scornfully, "you ought to see the letters my father gets at the first of every month."

"OLD CODGER" IN HARD LUCK

Like the Most of Us, He Is Being Rendered Uncomfortable
by the War.

"Well, squire, how does the war
look to you now?" inquired a foremost member of the village board of strategy.

"To tell the truth, Lester," replied
the Old Codger, "I am a good deal discouraged over the outlook at times, and then I remember that I come of a long line of hardy ancestors and on that account the chances are pretty fair for my surviving it.
You see, my nephew is home from the state university with the latest curlyques and contortions in the pronunciations of foreign names and places, and as my education was of the poor-but-honest variety we seldom see any important word in the war news from the same viewpoint.
I am too old to learn learning and he is too young to learn manners,
and consequently we are divided up into hostile bands nearly the whole time. He seems to flourish under it, but I'll confess that it is wearing on me to be continually defeated and put in the wrong."—Kansas City Star.

PUNCH REMAINS ON THE JOB

London's Humorous Publication Refuses to Be Depressed by the Conflict of Nations.

London isn't permitting the war
to interfere with its solemn good humor, as expressed in Punch. Here are a few clippings: The London museum is open again. The curator, we understand, would be glad to add to his collection of curiosities any Londoner who is still in favor of a small navy. . . . An eclipse of the sun took place on Friday last. It is supposed to have been an attempt on the part of the sun to prevent the Germans finding a place in it. . . .
"Thousands of young men without ties," complains a writer in the Express, "remain indifferent to the call of their country." We are afraid that this is true not only of those without ties, but also of some who wear expensive cravats. . . . A gentleman writes to the Observer
to mention that an American surgeon, on bidding him farewell the other day, remarked, "Blood is thicker than water." This statement coming from a medical man, who ought to know, is extremely valuable.

GOOD REASONING.

A certain young man's friends
thought he was dead, but he was only in a state of coma. When, in ample time to avoid being buried he showed signs of life, he was asked how it seemed to be dead.

"Dead!" he exclaimed. "I wasn't dead. I knew all the time what was going on. And I knew I wasn't dead, too, because my feet were cold
and I was hungry."

"But how did that fact make you think you were still alive?" asked one of the curious.

"Well, this way: I knew that if I were in heaven I wouldn't be hungry. And if I was in the other place my feet wouldn't be cold."— Tit-Bits.

THEN THEY SLEW HIM.

"No wonder," said the Cheerful Idiot, "that the Germans are hard to force back."

"Why the 'no wonder?' asked
the other boarder.

"Well, as the Germans are not given to treating, why should they take kindly to re—"

But we draw a veil.
There is too much bloodshed in the papers now anyway.

IN THE WEE SMA' HOURS.

She (at the top of the stairs)—
"What's all that noise down there?"
He (in the hall)—I guess it must be the dawn breaking, dearie.

A MILD CORRECTION.

"This is the train I am going to take to New York."

"Now, if I were you, I'd let the engineer attend to it."

HIS DEVOTION.

"How devoted your husband is to continued stories!"

"Yes, he even begins the day with a cereal."

THEIR PLACE.

"How shall I class this—'Correspondence of a Coquette?'"

"Certainly; among the belles-lettres."

DAIRY

SELLING HEIFERS FOR BEEF

System of Depletion of Breeding Stock
Is Going on Continuously—Money for Feeder.

Notwithstanding the general scarcity
of cattle in the country, which is conceded by every cattleman of intelligence, there continue to appear in all the stockyards daily journals reports of carloads of extra fine yearling heifers that brought the top price for the day, etc., says Twentieth Century Farmer. Of course, these reports are true. It is an absolute fact that carloads of the very best heifer calves have been bought, fattened for the baby beef market and shipped back and sold to the packers for slaughter.

This system of depletion of the breeding stock of the country is going on continuously in the face of what might be termed a cattle famine.
When will it stop? Not until these

Good Dairy Foundation.

heifer calves will bring more for breeding demands than they do now, or will bring as feeders. As long as the feeder can afford to buy this class of cattle and make his feeding venture profitable, or more profitable than by using other kinds of cattle, he will keep right on buying and feeding
these choice heifers, calves and yearlings. There may be a little sentiment in this business with some people, but there are so few of this kind of persons in the beef-making industry that they are lost sight of in the scramble
for gain of the almighty dollar.

PROPERLY BALANCED RATIONS

Report of Results of Tests Made by Illinois Station—Digestible
Nutrients Saved.

(By H. R. FLINT, Minnesota Experiment Station.)

A balanced ration is "one in which each of the different food materials or nutrients is present in just the right proportion and amount to meet the needs of the animals," says Bulletin 159 of the Illinois agricultural experiment station. Tests indicated that cows fed balanced rations yielded a pound of butter fat for each 17 pounds of total nutrients consumed, while 21 pounds were consumed to a pound of butter fat when an unbalanced ration was fed. The use of the balanced ration thus saved four pounds of di-gestible nutrients for each pound of butter fat produced, or a pound and a quarter of butter fat was produced by the same number of pounds of digestible nutrients in balanced rations as was required for a pound of butter fat
when the unbalanced ration was fed.

Not only was the butter fat more economically produced, but the cows given a balanced ration finished the test with better appetites and in much better flesh and general physical condition than the others. It is not specially difficult to gain the profit resulting from the balanced ration.

Supplemental Cow Feed.

For green feed to supplement the pasture during the latter part of summer and early fall, one acre for 15 head of cows should be planted.
Have one large field, and drill the corn the long way of field. Be sure to have the ground finely pulverized and rolled; the field can then be quickly planted and early cultivation given.
Corn is the best crop to grow for green feed for the silo, or to cure for winter feed.

Building a Silo.

It is not economical to build one for less than eight or ten cows. Those expecting to build should correspond with the college of agriculture of their state to secure plans, bills of the materials required and any other information that they may desire.

Produces Creamy Butter.

Churning at too high a temperature or churning too long will produce a greasy butter in which the grain is injured.

Increases Capacity of Farm.

The capacity of the farm may be increased by building up the silo so as to make each acre yield more.

Cleaning Dairy Utensils.

After the dairy utensils have been cleaned, invert them in the pure air
and where the sun will strike them.

A REQUEST AND A REPLY

Attorney Andrew M. Nichols
Replies to Letter of Judge J. F.
Gordon in Frank Manner.

Paducah, Ky., Dec. 29, 1914.—On December 24, 1914, I received from Judge J. F. Gordon of Madisonville, Ky., a letter which is as follows:

"ANDREW M. NICHOLS, Esq.,
Paducah, Ky.
Dear Sir:

Will you please let me know, by letter the date of your appointment as Secretary to Judge T. J. Nunn, and also the date of your resignation. If any salary checks or vouchers were sent to you for your signature or endorsement after you retired as Judge Nunn's Secretary, I would esteem it a very great favor if you would state the character of the documents sent you, and also the dates as near as you can. I will say to you that I am making some investigations in the Auditor's office and would like to have this information for the purpose of expediting my investigations. I hope you will not feel any hesitancy in furnishing me the desired information as it is not my purpose to use it in a way that will involve you in the least. I enclose a stamped envelope for reply.

Yours truly,
J. F. GORDON."

In answer to this letter, I desire to make the following statement:

JUDGE J. F. GORDON,
Madisonville, Ky.

Dear Sir:

I acknowledge the receipt of yours of the 23rd in which you say you are making some investigations in the Auditor's Office with reference to my salary as Judge T. J. Nunn's Secretary, and, to aid you in this matter, you ask me to inform you by letter, of the date of my appointment and the date of my resignation.

I note with special interest, this sentence in your letter: "I hope you will not feel any hesitancy in furnishing me the desired information, as it is not my purpose to use it in a way that will involve you in the least."

Now you know that you should have written direct to Judge T. J.

Nunn for any information about my relations with him while acting as his secretary. But since there is nothing in those relations that either he or I care to withhold from you, or from any other person who is curious enough to inquire about them, I want to assure you that I have no hesitancy in answering your questions, although I do not relish your offer of clemency. In that respect, I ask no grace nor favor of you, for it there is one thing above another in which I take a pride, it is my connection with Judge Nunn as his Secretary. You are privileged to use the information I shall give to you for any purpose you please and I shall not fear the consequences.

My appointment as Secretary to Judge Nunn dates with January the 1st, 1906 or 1907; I do not remember which, but the records in Frankfort will show the exact date. My resignation took effect in March, 1914, as I remember. During the summer of 1913, I formed a partnership with Hon. John K. Hendrick and took up my residence in Paducah. I tendered my resignation at that time, to take effect at Judge Nunn's pleasure. He had been in poor health for more than a year and had undergone a severe surgical operation. He was doubtful of recovering his health sufficiently to continue his work on the bench, and for that reason he hesitated to make permanent arrangements with any one to take my place, and requested that I continue nominally as his secretary until he could see if his recovery was probable. I so consented, and Judge Nunn employed a stenographer in Frankfort to do the work at the same salary. I was receiving, and his son, C. S. Nunn, the present judge, went to Frankfort and aided him in the work. This was September, 1913, and the work was done in that way until March 1, 1914, when Judge Nunn resigned, having become convinced that he could not recover while burdened with the responsibilities of the office.

Judge C. S. Nunn, when appointed by the Governor to succeed his father, requested me to continue in the same way until the 15th day of March, 1914, when he appointed his permanent Secretary. From September, 1913, until the time of my final retirement, I endorsed and returned to Judge Nunn all the salary checks because I was not doing the actual work and in order that Judge Nunn might pay those parties who were doing it in my stead. Under these circumstances, the expenses were heavier, but Judge Nunn met them by adding to the check I returned to him, a sufficient amount from his own salary. Every step was taken with my knowledge and approval. I only regret there was nothing more that I could do for him.

Having answered your questions, I must say that, try as I may, I have been unable to read anything in your letter but a reflection on the integrity of Judge T. J. Nunn, as well as myself. When inducted into office, Judge Nunn took oath to "administer justice without respect to persons and do equal right to the poor and to the rich." I know that no man ever tried harder to observe both the letter and spirit of that obligation. His success in the effort resulted in many years of faithful and valuable service to the people, and I know of no one who possessed more of their confidence and esteem. Until I received your letter, I did not suspect there was one person in all Kentucky who would call his integrity into question.

If your insinuations had been directed to me alone, I would be inclined to ignore them, or else reply by letter, as you requested. But when you seek to involve Judge Nunn in suspicion born of your candidacy for the office he gave up, I want no such mention made of him behind his back. His life is an open book; his record is a public matter, and his reputation is the people's property. Therefore, I prefer to reply in this open way.

Respectfully,

ANDREW M. NICHOLS.

Bird of Freedom.

Several years ago Wesley Meacham caught a large eagle in a trap near Carl and after keeping it in captivity awhile turned the bird loose. Last week Gussie Crick, a mill man of the Red Hill vicinity, a few miles from Carl, captured a similar bird, in all probability the same one. Mr. Crick brought it down by a shot that stunned it, but only slightly wounded it. It measured 7 feet 3 inches from tip to tip.
